

Koru

Koru is the most common pattern found in Kōwhaiwhai. It represents the pitau, the unfurled shoot of a fern. Koru symbolises new beginnings, birth and the unfolding of life.