

Commonwealth Games

Female Gold Medallist Profile

Bryony Botha

Age: 24      Height: 1.74 m (5 ft 9 in)

Nationality: New Zealander

Bike Rider

Gold Medallist in the Women's 3000m individual pursuit

Botha was raised in Auckland, New Zealand and attended Rangitoto College. In 2015, Botha was part of the team pursuit that won the event, and broke the world team pursuit record, at the Junior Track World Championship. In 2017 Botha represented New Zealand at the Oceania Track Cycling Championships where she won the team pursuit and scratch race. Later in the year Botha also competed at the Chile Track Cycling World Cup, winning gold in the women's team pursuit. She represented New Zealand at the 2018 Commonwealth Games claiming silver in the team pursuit. Botha also won bronze in the team pursuit at the 2019 Track Cycling World Championships in Poland.

Hobbies: Swimming, snorkelling, and nature walks.

Education: University of Waikato, Hamilton, New Zealand

Instagram: @bryony_botha

Facebook: @BryonyBothaAthlete

2022: Gold medal Women's 3000m individual pursuit | Commonwealth Games

2019: 1st Team pursuit | National Track Championships

2018: 2nd Silver medal Team pursuit | Commonwealth Games

2017: National Track Championships | 1st Team pursuit

2016: 1st Team pursuit | National Track Championships

2015: 1st Team pursuit | Juniors Track World Championships

2014: National Junior Track Championships | 1st Individual pursuit