

The innocence and imagination of childhood that is lost when one grows up

Describe the theme

The meaning of the innocence and imagination of childhood that is lost when one grows up means when a child is suffering from uncertainty and is insecure. This has been shown in the film when boy looks up to the father thinking that he can be like Michael Jackson. Boy looks up to his dad as a role model and wants to become like his dad and so he does anything the dad tells him to do and soon enough boy comes to realization that his father is a bad role model. Boy tries to become like his father as he starts to act like him, dress like him and so on.
