

Role models

"Boy"
-Taika Waititi

Role model is someone who we look up to and someday would want to be just like them, because they inspire, motivate, care, respect you. In the film, Boy's role model is his Father, Alamein and his favourite dancer and singer Michael Jackson.

Boy is waiting for his Dad to return from Prison, and spend time with him but he is also really impatient because, Alamein said to Boy that he will take him to see his role model Michael Jackson live on stage. Alamein is also Boy's role model because he can dance like Michael Jackson.

Rocky has Boy as his role model in the movie. Because he has no-one else to look up to. If he had his parents he would have known who to look up to and would have had a better understanding of the real world. He looks up to his brother Boy because he is the older sibling in the movie. Along with Rocky, there is Boy who also has 2 role models in his life.

One is Alamein and one is Michael Jackson. Alamein is boy's role model because first because he can dance like Michael Jackson, the other thing is, there is like a thing going on for ages and centuries where the father mainly are the role models of their children's, because they do so much hard work to put food on the table for their kids and family to eat. A father is always a number 1 hero in a child's life. This is the concept shown by Taika Waititi in the film where he himself is a father and things he does to spend time with Boy and Rocky, even though he has done many thefts in his lifetime, but he is always good with his kids and that's what really matter for Boy, now that he doesn't have a mother to take care of him and Rocky.

In this photo he is looking at Boy and what he is doing and he might copy or do similar things in the future when he gets older.

Events

Here are the events happened in the film, which gives us an idea of boy's role model.

- Boy's introduction of himself and what he likes, his role models more about his parents and family
- The scene were Alamein remember that Boy's role model is Michael Jackson. So he dresses like him and dances just like Michael Jackson.
- Alamein as a role model is shown as someone who takes the best care of his children's and loves them so much.

This photo Boy is with his brother Rocky

In this photo he is looking at Boy and what he is doing and he might copy or do similar things in the future when he gets older.

Technique

PEDAL